The woman Gallegher is also held as an important witness. antwitness.

Coroner Carrick began an inquest this morning.

Baithaant Tutt, a painter, testified that on going to work about 5 o'clock Saturday morning and in passing along the sidewalk about sixty yards north of the avenue toilgate, he saw a man's feet sticking out of the grass in the Cemetery. He went over and found a stone on his face and blood on it. On feeling him he found him dead. Chas Palmer was with me. There was nothing in the appearance of the grass indicating that there had been a struggle; there were a few deeps of blood on the iron fence.

Win. Boyd, keeper of toilgate No. 2, said that about 5:30 o'clock, he was told by Tutt that there was a dead man lying in the cemetery premises. He left the toilgate about 10 o'clock Friday night, but aaw no suspicious characters or strangers in the neighborhood.

Charles Dearing, a saloon-keeper, stated that Tutt informed him of the dead man being found by him.

Dr. E. Schwabsubmitted his post mortem examination setting forth the nature of the man's injuries.

George Hoffman, who lives with Mr. Dearing, gave testimony similar to Mr. Dearing's.

Frank Suhn testified that he works for Coroner Carrick began an inquest this Dearing a.

Frank Suhn testified that he works for Charles Schaff: that he got up Saturday morning at 2½ o'clock, and on going along Spring Grove avenue about a square south of the toll-gatche saw a man lying on the west side of the avenue under the large trees there. After pussing up about fifty feet he saw a man standing in the road, who asked, "What is the matter and what are you doing?" I said nothing but "I am going to work." He said, "Well, go on." I walked on and he followed me a few feet and went back in the street. The man who was lying down had a gray-looking suit on, and the lapels of the coat were pulled over his face. He did not have any hat on. The man in the road had a thick, red face, a broad-rimmed black hat, almost new, with a grey coat and pants. He was about five feet eight or nine inches bigh. I think I would know him again If I saw him. I was about twenty-two feet away from him.

The witness was hereupon sent to the Chief of Police to identify the man.

Detective Mead took Wilkin out to Cumminsville this morning to see if any of the residents there could identify him as having been seen in that vicinity on the night of the murder. Up to the time of going to press Mead had not yet returned.

The inquest has been adjourned until 3 o'clock to-morrow afternoon.

THE STINK AT THE CANAL. A Loud Howl From Citizens and Action by the Health Officer.

Complaints having been continuously nade of late to Health Officer Minor that the residue of the water which was let out cer to-day investigated the case, and found that the water had been shut off at Middletown in order to make repairs at Amanda, De Sondesville and Sunfish, near Franklin. He at once communicated with Mr. Smith, the Superintendent of the State Board of Public Works, but received no satisfaction, the latter making a half-way unreliable promise that the water would be let into the canal by Friday.

Mr. Minor then telegraphed to Governor R. M. Bishop that something in the matter must be done at once in order to abate the nuisance and prevent disease in the neighborhood. At the time of our going to presson answer had been received, and in the meantime Health Officer Minor is in consultation with the City Solicitor as to the advisability of h ving the State Board of Public Works indiced before the Grand Jury, which is now in session here.

He also intends to drain the canal at the elevator, corner of Court and Broadway, immediately, so as to get rid of as much of the filthy draws in the carell avecoming.
